ECLIPSES FOR THE YEAR 1918
In this year there will be three eclipses, two of the Sun and one of the Moon.
I. A total eclipse of the sun, June 8, visible throughout North America, northeastern Asia and the north Pacific Ocean as a partial eclipse with the exception of places situated in the path of the moon's shadow. The shadow of the moon at sunrise is in the Pacific ocean about 300 miles south of Japan, 3:32 o'clock p. m. Eastern Standard Time. Crossing the Pacific ocean just south of the Aleutian Islands it will enter the United States at South Bend, Oregon, northwest of Portland. It will thence cross the country in a southeasterly direction, passing over Baker City, Ore., Denver, Col., Jackson City, Miss., Orlando, Fla., and leaving the earth at sunset in the Bahama Islands, 6 o'clock 43 min., E. S. T. The nearer the observer is to this shadow path the greater the eclipse, the farther away, the less. The times of the phases in a few cities are, (Eastern Standard Time):
CITY	BEGIN.	MID.	END	MAG.	CITY	BEGIN.	MID.	END	MAG.	CITY	BEGIN.	MID.	END	MAG.
Augusta, Me.	5:29	6:20	7:08	.58	Columbus, O.	5:29	6:28	7:23	.78	New Orleans, La.	5:38	6:41	7:38	.95

Greatest length of total phase, 2 min. 23 sec. in lat. 50° 51' N., Long. 153° 35' W. of Greenwich. Duration of totality, on Pacific coast, 2 min. 4 sec.; on N. W. coast of Florida, 56 sec.
II. A partial eclipse of the moon, June 23-24, partly visible in eastern United States, the moon setting eclipsed; the beginning visible in S. America, except the eastern portion, North America, except the northern portion, and throughout the Pacific ocean and Australia. Magnitude of the eclipse, 0.135 (Moon's diameter=1.0).
III. An Annular Eclipse of the Sun, December 3, invisible in the United States; visible throughout S. America, except the regions north of the Amazon river.

The computations for this Almanac have been carefully made for the latitude of Philadelphia, and are expressed in the Eastern Standard Time. For places not on a standard meridian, but keeping Standard time the following rule applies: For places west of the 75th meridian add in the proportion of four minutes for each additional degree of longitude; for places east, subtract. For moon's phases, eclipses, equinoxes, and solstices, simply reduce from Eastern, to required Standard.

FOREWORD

The year 1917 will go down in history as singularly memorable. It marked the Four Hundredth anniversary of the Protestant Reformation and the entrance of the United States in the Great War. The coincidence is remarkable.

The quarto-centenary of the Protestant Reformation was very generally observed by the Reformed, Lutheran, Presbyterian and other denominations. In our own Church there was widespread interest awakened and the enthusiastic celebration proved to be inspirational to a large degree. Much of the interest centered about education. This was quite natural in the celebration of the anniversary of the Reformation. The educational campaign, special services, illustrated lectures and pageants combined to make the celebration efficacious in promoting the great cause of religious education.

The "Reformation Pageant" added much to the enlightenment, as well as to the entertainment of the people in celebrating the greatest event in the history of the Church. It was successfully given in Philadelphia, Lebanon, Pa., Allentown, Pa., Reading, Pa., and York, Pa., and aroused great enthusiasm in these centers of the Reformed Church. The people thronged the halls to witness the rendition of the most elaborate effort of its kind ever attempted in our Church.*

The Great War, from its beginning, has been viewed with considerable alarm by the Church as to its effect on the work and the participation of the United States in the conflict did not lessen the anxieties of the people. The Church, however, is facing the problem with heroic faith in the ultimate triumph of Christianity. The statistics, as seen elsewhere in the Almanac, are encouraging. Everywhere we see evidences of the devotion of the people. Churches are better attended; contributions for benevolence are increasing; the interest in temperance was never as great, and, all in all, these are propitious days for the Church of Jesus Christ. The Bishop of Utah in his convocation address on "The Supreme Duty of the Church," has well said, "Let me emphasize what I believe to be the supreme duty of the Church at this crisis, a duty which we should feel all the more strongly because we love our country, but nevertheless, a duty which transcends any national loyalty. The world situation, our entrance into the war, and the direful effects on industrial and home life and standards of conduct which are bound to follow, call insistently for a more vital expression of fundamental Christianity in all of our life. Are we concerned about the future of democracy? To be lasting it must be erected on the Christian basis. Do we want a peace that will endure? Such can only be found when the principle of Christian brotherhood is established. Are we concerned about the moral welfare of our boys and girls whether at home or abroad? Only the Gospel of Christ can protect them. Are the recent advances in social legislation threatened? It is the Christianized conscience only that is alert to guard such things. More and more the conclusion must come home to us that if better things are to come out of this world struggle, yes, if we are just to hold our own, the Church must redouble her efforts to stir the hearts, quicken the consciences, and enkindle the zeal of men with a vital and energizing religion. To accomplish that in any degree will be the best service to our land and to all the world. Whatever may be your conviction as to war, and however popular spectacular participation in the preparations for it may be, let us remember that the present lays upon us more compellingly than ever before the necessity for winning men to Christ and through them the world."

THE GENERAL SYNOD

The General Synod of Dayton (1917) was a notable gathering of representative ministers and laymen of the Reformed Church. The conditions under which the Synod convened were auspicious. The quartocentenary of the Protestant Reformation added much to the historical interest, and also contributed to the inspirational character of the gathering. The anxiety incident to the entrance of the United States in the Great War challenged the faith of every delegate and accounted to a large degree for the consciousness of the great responsibility resting upon the Church.

The spirit of the Synod was fine. The unanimous opinion prevailed that it was one of the best, and that its impress upon the Church would be felt for years to come.

The president in presiding over the body proved himself to be a fine parliamentarian and the business was dispatched in a masterly fashion. The program as outlined, and for which the United Missionary and Stewardship Committee deserves great credit, was followed with few departures.

EPILOGUE
THE CALL OF THE CHURCH TO THE FUTURE

The Synod took an advanced position on every great question. It was an aggressive Synod. The representatives of the various boards were made to feel that the Church was back of them and expected them to lead the people into larger things for the Kingdom.

Among the encouraging signs of the times stressed by the Standing Committee on the State of the Church were the following:

"Our Boards of Ministerial Relief are doing all they can to awaken the Church to a deeper consciousness of her obligation to the needy ministers, who have given the best of their years and life to the service of the Gospel, often without a living salary. We hope for better days!

"There has been a noted increase in the liberality of the Church. Our Foreign Board reports the remarkable increase of $161,000.00 for the last triennium; over $500,000.00 were contributed. There is also an increase in the receipts of the Home Mission Boards. The growth of the "Church-building Funds" has been remarkable. The Board of the three German Synods in the Middle West has now over $100,000 in its Fund.

"The Sunday School work of the churches has taken rapid strides. The membership has largely increased; greater efficiency has been developed among the teachers and officers, thanks to the tireless labors of the General Secretary and his co-workers. The Publication and Sunday School Board has been faithful in meeting its obligations. The present year is certainly a notable one in our history. In connection with this celebration an extensive Sunday School increase campaign has been inaugurated, which has done much to stimulate this work.

"Our literary and theological institutions have all made progress. A new dormitory was erected for the Theological Seminary at Lancaster. Ursinus, Catawba and Heidelberg all are reaching out higher. Large sums have been gathered or are being gathered. Heidelberg University is making a heroic effort to raise a half million dollars. A new building is in the course of erection at the Mission House, after the troublesome question of a relocation has been finally settled. The new building is to cost in the neighborhood of $80,000.00. A new Academy has been started at Scotland, S. Dakota. A new seminary building has been completed for the Central Theological Seminary.

THE NEW HYMNAL

The recent General Synod at Dayton approved the collection of hymns, together with the chants, Te Deum and musical responses as made by the Hymnal Committee of the General Synod and authorized the use of the text of the American Revised Version of the Bible in the responsive readings. The subject matter of the proposed Hymnal, including the index of first lines, tunes and authors, was printed and sent down immediately to all the Classes of the Church through the Stated Clerk. Synod directed the Classes, either at their annual meeting, if that had not yet been held, or at a special meeting, called as soon as possible after the meeting of General Synod, to take action upon the Hymnal, in accordance with the provisions of the constitution; and requested each Classis to send a copy of its action, as soon as possible, to the Stated Clerk of General Synod. In the event of the adoption of the Hymnal by two-thirds of the Classes the Stated Clerk was requested to communicate the fact of such adoption to the Hymnal Committee and the General Synod would thereupon approve of its provisional publication.

"At this date," (August 15, 1917), writes the Stated Clerk, Rev. J. Rauch Stein, "the required two-thirds of the number of Classes, a total of 41 out of a possible 61 votes, have been cast in favor of the adoption of the New Hymnal and the work of preparing the provisional issue will be urgently prosecuted. The committee is authorized to publish a word edition of the Hymnal at the judgment of the publishers. The Church may therefore soon expect to be busy familiarizing itself with the excellent work which has been received so favorably by the Reformed Church."

UNITED MISSIONARY AND STEWARDSHIP COMMITTEE

THE UNITED MISSIONARY AND STEWARDSHIP COMMITTEE

The General Synod, meeting at Lancaster, Pa., in May, 1914, created the United Missionary and Stewardship Committee. The Committee conducted its work during the next three years in such a way that the General Synod, meeting at Dayton, Ohio, in May, 1917, "heartily commended its United Missionary and Stewardship Committee for the very definite service it had rendered the Church during the last triennium."

The General Synod voted to continue the Committee and carefully outlined its functions and work, defining them to be:

"To carry forward the work of the Every-Member Canvass,

"To stress the claims of Christian stewardship, giving to the Church such an educational program as will stimulate larger gifts of life and means to the great work of the denomination,

"A Bureau of Finance to study the methods of Church finance that it may give expert advice to any boards, pastors, consistories, or members who may wish to consult it,

"To co-ordinate and arrange in an orderly manner the presentation of the work of the four Boards of General Synod,

"To offer with its recommendation to the next meeting of the General Synod a complete budget of expenses of the several boards,

"To prepare the Blue Book for the General Synod of 1920,

"To prepare, in co-operation with the Stated Clerks, the docket for the next meeting of General Synod "

The first four of these items refer to the regular work of the Committee throughout the triennium, and the last three items have to do with the work of the Committee in preparation for the next meeting of the General Synod.

The General Synod decreed that the Committee should consist of fourteen members: two appointed by the Board of Home Missions; two appointed by the Board of Foreign Missions; one appointed by the officers of the Laymen's Missionary Movement; one appointed by the Board of Ministerial Relief; one appointed by the Publication and Sunday School Board, and seven members, three pastors and four elders, elected by the General Synod.

The General Synod elected Rev. Drs. J. M. G. Darms, J. O. Reagle and E. S. Bromer, and elders William W. Anspach, F. von Tacky, Milton Warner and William H. Dechant; the Board of Home Missions chose Rev. C. E. Schaeffer, D.D. and Emory L. Colblentz, Esq.; the Board of Foreign Missions, Rev. A. R.

Bartholomew, D.D. and Mr. F. M. Berkemeyer; the Laymen's Missionary Movement, Rev. William E. Lampe, Ph.D.; the Board of Ministerial Relief, Rev. J. W. Meminger, D.D., and the Publication and Sunday School Board, Rev. Rufus W. Miller, D.D.

At the meeting of the Committee held on July 6, 1917, the following officers were elected: Elder William W. Anspach, Chairman, Rev. J. M. G. Darms, D.D., Vice Chairman; Rev. William E. Lampe, Ph.D., Secretary; and Elder Milton Warner, Treasurer.

The program of the Committee for the next three years is to encourage and assist the whole Church to raise annually 80 cents per communicant member for Home Missions, 80 cents for Foreign Missions, and 10 cents for Ministerial Relief, and to make an annual offering on Children's Day for Sunday School Work. The Committee will also stress the claims of Christian Stewardship and endeavor to raise the standards of giving throughout the denomination. It will encourage large proportionate giving and urge congregations to realize the standard "As Much for Others as for Ourselves."

The work of the Every-Member Canvass will be pushed throughout the triennium. More than one-half of all our congregations have already made at least one Canvass, but many of them should make it much more thoroughly and conduct it as an annual affair. It is hoped that before the end of the triennium there will not be a congregation which has not adopted this excellent system which has so thoroughly proved its worth.

The importance of the Classical Missionary and Stewardship Committees can hardly be overestimated. They stand in close relation to the congregations of the Classes and they can render aid that it is not possible for the Committee of the General Synod to render. There are now Missionary and Stewardship Committees in fifty-one of the Classes of the Church. All of them are co-operating with General Synod's Committee.

Every congregation should have an active Missionary and Stewardship Committee. The General Synod and other judicatories have repeatedly pointed out the advantages of the work of such committees and urged their appointment.

Until a few years ago there had been only a few congregations which gave each year for the missionary and benevolent work of the Church as much as for their own expenses. The number is rapidly increasing for there were twenty-three such congregations in 1915 and twenty-eight of them in 1916.

The Reformed Church in the United States is not yet among the leading denominations in its giving to missions and benevolences, but the great possibilities are indicated in the following record of progress:

Year	Membership	Congregational
		Expenses	Benevolence

During the last three years the United Missionary and Stewardship Committee has contributed several hundred thousand leaflets, pamphlets and cards, nearly all of them free of charge. This literature, which is available to all congregations, includes valuable information regarding our missionary and benevolent work, the work of congregational committees, the weekly offerings, and the every-member canvass. Samples may be had by addressing the United Missionary and Stewardship Committee, 15th and Race Streets, Philadelphia, Pa.

THE YOUNG PEOPLE'S DEPARTMENT

The General Synod of Dayton (1917) marks a new epoch in the development of the Young People's Societies of the Reformed Church in the adoption of the following: 1. That the Permanent Committee on Young People's Societies of General Synod be continued. 2. That a Young People's Department be established with its own secretary and office. 3. That it be independent from entangling arrangements with the Publication and Sunday School, Home Mission and Foreign Mission Boards, but in harmony with them seek to develop the various activities of the Young People's Societies of the Church. 4. That the third Sunday in October be established as Young People's Day in the Church calendar and devoted to the development of the department. 5. That the Standing Committees on Young People's Societies of the Classes each year carefully summarize the statistics according to the blank issued by General Synod and that the stated clerks of the Classes be instructed to forward them to the chairman of the General Synod's Permanent Committee on Young People's Societies, until the secretary of the department be appointed.

The President then re-appointed the former Permanent Committee to serve during the new triennium. In order to support the new department it was found necessary to define ways and means. The following resolution was accordingly adopted without opposition: "Resolved, that the support of the Young People's Department shall be derived from various Young People's Societies of the Church; and, further, that during the triennium all deficits, if there be such, shall be paid in equal portions by the three Boards most interested in the development of the Young People's work, viz: The Home Mission, the Foreign Mission and the Publication and Sunday School Boards."

The committee is operating at present under three sub-committees, viz: Preliminary Work, Policy, and Secretaryship. The Committee on Preliminary Work is preparing a service for Young People's Day to be observed throughout the Church in October. It is also preparing a plan for financing the department. The Committee on Policy is working on a definite policy and plan of procedure for the triennium. The Committee on Secretaryship is authorized to find the right man to head the department.

THE CHURCH PAPER

A wide-awake pastor says, "A good religious newspaper is about the best thing next to the Bible that we have." It is altogether likely that this minister arrived at that conclusion in a thoroughly practical manner. In other words, he gave the Church paper a fair trial and found it to be beneficial to his people and helpful to him in his work. It is not likely that the people, any more than their pastors, will learn the value of the Church paper theoretically. It must be given more than a merely formal introduction by the pastor and it must be given a fair trial by the people if its real merits are to be discovered.

"The pastor needs the paper more as an instrument of service than he does as a medium of personal benefit and comfort. The Church members who are most benefited by preaching are those who know most about the things of God in the Bible and in the churches at home and abroad. The Church members who know most are the Church members who will do most, other things being equal. From both angles then the pastor needs the paper—to be blessed and to be a blessing. The denomination must have a paper, to be a denomination at all. There may be separate and unconnected churches of like faith and order scattered over the face of the earth, or joined wall to wall and still have no denomination. The Kingdom of God as it is represented by the churches on earth will be promoted by denominational life and a denomination is composed of churches of like faith and order associated together to promote the Gospel. In many things churches united to do what neither could accomplish alone, and in many other things all unite to promote the Gospel where all their strength is best employed in consecrated effort. The individual is blessed in the local church and all the local churches are blessed by co-operation with other like churches in a task commensurate with their combined strength. The religious paper is an essential factor in denominational life."

The Almanac and Year Book is published conjointly by the Publication and Sunday School Board and the Central Publishing House. These two interests publish and assume respectively the financial support of "The Reformed Church Messenger" and of "The Christian World," the former the official organ of the Eastern, Pittsburg and Potomac Synods; the latter of the Ohio Synod.

It is eminently fitting, therefore, that we should publish side by side the portraits of the editors of "The Messenger" and of the "Christian World." Of the former, the Rev. Paul Seibert Leinbach, D.D., succeeds the Rev. Cyrus J. Musser, D.D., who was elected editor emeritus by the Editorial Commission representing the Eastern, Pittsburg and Potomac Synods.

ASSOCIATION OF SCHOOLS, COLLEGES AND SEMINARIES OF THE REFORMED CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES

In the Almanac and Year Book of last year, considerable space was given to telling the story of the beginnings of the Association of Schools, Colleges and Seminaries of the Reformed Church in the United States. A brief sketch of each institution of higher learning was also given and pictures showing one or two in each instance of their several significant buildings. Since that time many of the members of our Church have had opportunities to see and hear a great deal more about these institutions through the stereopticon lectures which have been given throughout a number of the Classes. Anniversary addresses have been heard and the columns of the Church papers have been given with considerable freedom to this cause. But best of all thousands of the members of the church have been spoken to in a very informal way about the whole subject and enrolled by gift in the movement.

In the meantime great changes have taken place in the emphasis we as a nation have been placing on higher education, due for the most part either directly or indirectly to our nation's part in the great World War. But great as these changes are, the educational tasks before us are the same now as they were a year ago, except that we see them more clearly. Then they were stated thus:

1. To awaken our people to the vast importance of Christian Education;
2. To inform parents of all Reformed families of the advantages of Education under Christian auspices;
3. To increase the enrollment of our Reformed Schools, Colleges and Seminaries;
4. To increase the material equipment and endowment of all our institutions to standard requirement.

OUR CREED

It is interesting to note that not one word of this statement need be changed after one year's uses. The only change anyone might suggest is to intensify the statements of our convictions on all of these points. In fact they have come to be a sort of Educational Creed for us, for who cannot say most heartily. "I believe in the immediate need of awakening our people to the vast importance of Christian Education." Or, "I believe in the wisdom of an adequate effort to inform parents of all Reformed families of the advantages of Education under Christian auspices." Or, "I believe in the policy of a constant effort to increase the enrollment of our Reformed Schools, Colleges and Seminaries." Or, finally, "I believe in the immediate necessity of increasing the material equipment and endowment of all institutions to standard requirement."

Our Educational Awakening

All of us thought we could see the advantages of Christian education for times of peace, with possible uses for those thus trained when war should arise. But there is a different story to be told by our national history of the past year. It is told in three brief statements. "First, with the call to arms the government turned first and chiefly to the American colleges for the trained leaders of which it was in sore and immediate need. Secondly, the world war is clearly seen to be a battle for the dominance of certain ideals of life, and those ideals are forged and fashioned in the educational institutions of the world and by the teachers sent forth from College halls. Thirdly, the supreme need when the war is over will be that of highly trained leaders who will train and lead the people into the acceptance of and devotion to those ideals which alone will make the world a safe place for democracy and create a Christian democracy which is safe for the world." So it appears that whether in peace or at war, the leadership of the future must be sought for in our colleges and there it must be found. But if we are to have either the quality or quantity we need for reconstruction, it must be planned for.

Seeing Our Sons and Daughters as Possible Leaders

Perhaps the most difficult part for most parents of our church is to see that while this leadership must come from those now in their youth, yet it is our own sons and daughters whom God is choosing to do the large and hard tasks of the world's work, provided of course that we are giving them the ideals, and the power to lead aright. But this is to be done by cultivating their highest desires and all their powers, and the Christian college has no rival in this enormous and most important work.

College and Efficiency

This is an age of much talk about efficiency, which being interpreted means, "the shortest way to get there." So a great deal is said about not having time for this or that thing. Going to a college and taking the full course before specializing is one of the methods of applying this so called efficiency. But do we "get there" by such methods? It depends upon where we are trying to get. If the whole matter is one of the financial gain, we often do arrive but if making a living is secondary to making a life, as we believe it is, then the best way for a young man or woman to spend the years immediately following their preparatory work is in a good Christian College. Getting rich? No, but getting what a great American educator, William DeWitt Hyde calls:

The Offer of the College

"To be at home in all lands and all ages; to count nature a familiar acquaintance, and art an intimate friend; to gain a standard for the appreciation of other men's work and the criticism of your own; to carry the keys of the world's library in your pocket, and feel its resources behind you in whatever task you undertake; to make hosts of friends among men of your own age who are to be leaders in all walks of life; to lose yourself in generous enthusiasms and co-operate with others for common ends; to learn manners from students who are gentlemen, and form character under professors who are Christians,—this is the offer of the college for the best four years of your life."

The Awakening of the Churches

Now parents are not entirely to blame for overlooking the importance of seeing that their sons and daughters were educated under Christian auspices when we remember that for a few generations whole denominations have left the propagation of this idea entirely in the hands of those in charge of the institutions. Now Church people see farther into the future and the trend is back to the Church school again. And for sufficient reasons.

Your Church Schools are Your Schools

It has been observed that a surprising number of very earnest men and women in the Reformed Church have never set foot inside any one of the schools of their Church. For this reason two erroneous ideas have arisen, both of which are easily corrected by obeying the Apostolic injunction, "Come and see." They think the courses unpractical and the schools not efficient. Let us repeat, "Come and see." If this is impossible, some careful inquiries will show how well our own schools are doing all they attempt to do and how they stand among others of their kind.

Who Make Church Schools Possible

While there are many as has been noted above, who are not in close touch with the schools of our Church, there are others who have been faithful to them from the beginning of their histories. Were this not true our noble educational history would have been impossible. One of the purposes of this movement is to enlarge the circle of friends. Schools cannot receive support from taxation; the larger Foundations have very rigid restrictions in some instances, and of course no student body can pay for its own education. It remains for the Church herself to face this task, and she does it. On our mission fields we are giving about three out of every five dollars to work of this sort, believing with Humboldt, "Whatever you would put into the state, you must first put into the schools." Our forefathers believed in these institutions for of this nature were most of the early colleges of our land. Practically every denomination now believes in them, since from these fountain heads flow the healing waters, and they who come there and tarry for a season go forth to heal the nations and raise up the sons and daughters of God. For this reason, it is not strange that after some of the Churches have neglected their schools for a number of years, thinking that the state could take entire care of higher education, yet during the past five or six years almost every denomination has started a campaign looking toward the strengthening of its schools. "No Church is greater than her schools," is the slogan of one great Church, and others have similar thoughts in mind. The enormous sum of more than one hundred and twenty millions of dollars is involved in the campaigns of the Churches. Roughly speaking this calls for gifts of between three and four dollars from every man, woman and child in the Protestant Churches in the land. This is also about the amount per member called for by our Church, when she asks for the total of one million dollars. A large sum in the aggregate. A small one indeed when apportioned among the more than three hundred thousands of members, a large number of whom have never made a gift directly for higher education.

Why Should I Give to These Schools?

For these reasons we must come to the conclusion that education is not the work of a few men and women who have charge of our schools, but that it is one of the important branches of the work of the kingdom, and as such it must challenge every earnest member. For are we not all indebted to these schools? If I am helped by my pastor, if I enjoy the services of the Church with its songs and hymns, if the literature of the Church and the inspiration flowing out from our centers of learning have been a joy and a source of strength to me, then indeed am I debtor to these same schools, for while perhaps not directly yet indirectly they are my alma mater—my "nourishing mother."

There is another reason why I should support these institutions. When I make a contribution to either Home or Foreign Missions I am thinking of what I can do to help build men and women into the likeness of their Master, whether they live far across the seas or in the next street. Who is to lead, these shepherdless ones? Who are training leaders for them now? What will all of my dollars amount to unless there is some one who is trained to do the work? These institutions are therefore the means whereby you and I can make ourselves felt in the distant places of the earth through these noble companies of graduates laboring everywhere. We can give toward the endowment of them and strengthen their message. We can help them with their equipment. We can give toward scholarships and help poor boys and girls who apart from this small start cannot give themselves,—a far greater sacrifice than we are making,—and be great blessings to the Church and the world.

But perhaps you cannot give now. Perhaps you must have the funds for your declining years. Why not think of an annuity? Why not bequeath of your funds to these causes? This is a part of our duty to ourselves and to the causes we love. Such gifts are possible for many of us who are not at all able to make present ones of equal size, but they are nevertheless very helpful ways to help the work of the Church carry out what to us is of first importance.

How Shall I Remember My Dear Ones?

There are those who would erect memorials to their dear ones. Some of the most beautiful expressions to the memory of dear ones are not found in cemeteries, where they can render no service to the living. You will find them as professorships, making provision for the instruction of students for ages to come. You will find them as buildings, whether erected to serve as libraries, gymnasias, science halls or dormitories. You will find them as funds for the education of worthy but poor students. In short you will find about almost every school a number of gifts that are more truly memorial than the most elaborate shaft in the church yard. They are given to such causes as the departed counted dear and through this means his or her friend is made to live. The names of parents, brothers and sisters or pastors are by such courses recorded in a way that will remain after the shafts have become worn and beaten by time. This creed then of Christian education, of a deepened interest and acquaintanceship with our institutions, of a new emphasis on the things for which Christian Education stand, and of a definite gift from every member of the Church to her Educational Institutions, like every real creed is more than a creed. It is a challenge and as such must be faced thoughtfully by every earnest person who thinks carefully and prayerfully before doing anything in the work of the Kingdom, and who desires to work in harmony with all constructive forces. The generous and universal response received whenever this appeal has been made intelligently is a splendid testimony to the serious and thoughtful way in which our people face such facts.

THE STORY OF OUR SUNDAY SCHOOL MISSIONARY WORK

Eleven thousand towns and villages west of the Mississippi without even a Sunday School, not to mention a church. This is a part of the unfinished missionary task in the homeland. And east of the Mississippi! While there may be much overcrowding, there is yet much barren ground. Here too it is the Sunday School, in most cases, upon which the foundations are laid for the coming church.

The following story was recently told by a Sunday School Missionary in the West. He and his companion had canvassed a no-Sunday School town all afternoon, with the result that more than a dozen converts were made. After the evening meeting in the schoolhouse, the hostess told the missionary, this story. "When I was putting my little son to bed he said, 'Mother, I think I am going to love that man, but my how he swored and swore in the schoolhouse; but he must have been ashamed of himself, because he hung his head and kept his eyes closed all the while he did it.' " And this in Christian America. Certainly here is a place for the Sunday School Missionary. Daily these men are bringing to the children in the desert places a different knowledge of Jesus, than that which they receive on the street corner from profane men.

Space does not permit giving the thrilling story of the organization of, and help rendered Reformed Mission Sunday Schools in the early days of need, by the Publication and Sunday School Board. One notable example must suffice. All but two of the many flourishing churches of Akron, Ohio, either originated, or were supported in this way, and this largely through the agency of that splendid champion of the Missionary and Sunday School cause, Dr. E. R. Williard. The impress of such activity has contributed to no little degree to make Akron one of the leading missionary centers in the Reformed Church.

In addition to this extensive work, the Publication and Sunday School Board is tireless in its efforts to arouse the spirit of missions, and to develop missionary intelligence concerning our home and foreign work throughout all of the schools under its care. To this end, it has set up a missionary standard for the Sunday Schools, has furnished a missionary curriculum for the schools, published leaflets and text books and promotes the cause at Sunday School Conventions, and the Summer Conferences. For carrying on this important work, it is dependent upon the offerings on Children's Day, and private gifts of individuals. If you, my reader, are looking for a worthy cause in which to invest some money for the kingdom, here is one among the many other worthy ones, which makes a peculiarly strong appeal. For further information address the Publication and Sunday School Board, 15th and Race Streets, Philadelphia, Pa..

Plans are going forward for the erection of the Schaff Building. War conditions made it impossible to begin in 1917. If you wish to permanently establish the general work of the Reformed Church—Missionary, Educational, Sunday School, make a gift to the Schaff Building Fund.

Thousands of our church members are enrolled in the Organized Adult Classes in our Sunday Schools. Every one—young and old—from the baby on the Cradle Roll to the aged person over eighty, should belong to the Sunday School.

Sunday School papers, Lesson Helps, Bibles, Hymnals, Books, are silent influences for good. Who can measure their value! The Publication and Sunday School Board circulates eight million copies yearly. Do you cooperate with the Board in this work? Have you good reading matter in your home for all the family?

The weekly Church paper ought to be in every home. Our Reformed Church can be justly proud of the Reformed Church Messenger, Christian World, The Kirchenzeitung. The publishers of this almanac will send you free sample copies.

THE MUSIC DEPARTMENT

One of the important departments in the work of the Publication and Sunday School Board is the Music Department.

It has been a recognized fact for a long time that music plays a very important part in the work of Church and Sunday School. Many of the denominations had been giving more or less attention to the solution of what is becoming more and more of a problem. Our Board, by employing a musician to give his entire time to this work, set a precedent that has since been followed by other denominational boards.

The work of this department may be divided into three parts, namely:

1. Our Own Publications.

We are a little different from others in having a composer of recognized ability as the head of our department and our original publications have been unusually successful and appreciated not only in our own but all other denominations. We have issued Festival Services, Cantatas, Song Stories, Song Books, Anthem Books, Octavo Anthems, Sheet Music, etc., and they have had a remarkable sale throughout this and other countries.

2. Publications Issued by Others.

In addition to our publications, we carry almost everything issued by the various publishers throughout the country and what we do not carry in stock we can procure at publishers' rates and without delay. Many of our churches are glad to refer all orders to us and appreciate the real service we render in this respect. However, there are some who think that because they do not purchase our publications, they should go direct to the publishers. Why not order from us? For every order we place with another publisher, we make a small discount which goes into the work of the Board in instituting and assisting new Sunday Schools. No matter what you intend to purchase and from whom, let us have the order, please.

3. Our "Service" Department.

This is a very important feature of the department and is becoming more and more appreciated. There are problems, with relation to music, which come up from time to time and we want you to get into the habit of referring these problems to us. More than likely our Mr. Lowden can help you, but if not, he knows just where to find solution of the musical problem.

HOME MISSIONS

Evangelism

The Board of Home Missions appointed the following persons to constitute the Committee on Evangelism: Rev. E. S. Bromer, D.D.; Rev. C. E. Schaeffer, D.D.; Rev. C. B. Schneder, D.D.; Rev. F. A. Rupley, and Rev. George Longaker. This Committee has projected a three years' campaign for the Reformed Church. This contemplates an increase in the membership by at least 75,000 by 1920. This is clearly within the range of possibility, but it will require the mobilizing of all the forces and activities of the local congregations. The campaign also contemplates the deepening and strengthening of the spiritual life of our people, and urges more regular and faithful attendance upon the services of the sanctuary, and at the Holy Communion. The Church of Christ stands for a sane evangelism, and the campaign of the Committee deserves the most hearty and enthusiastic support of all our pastors and people.

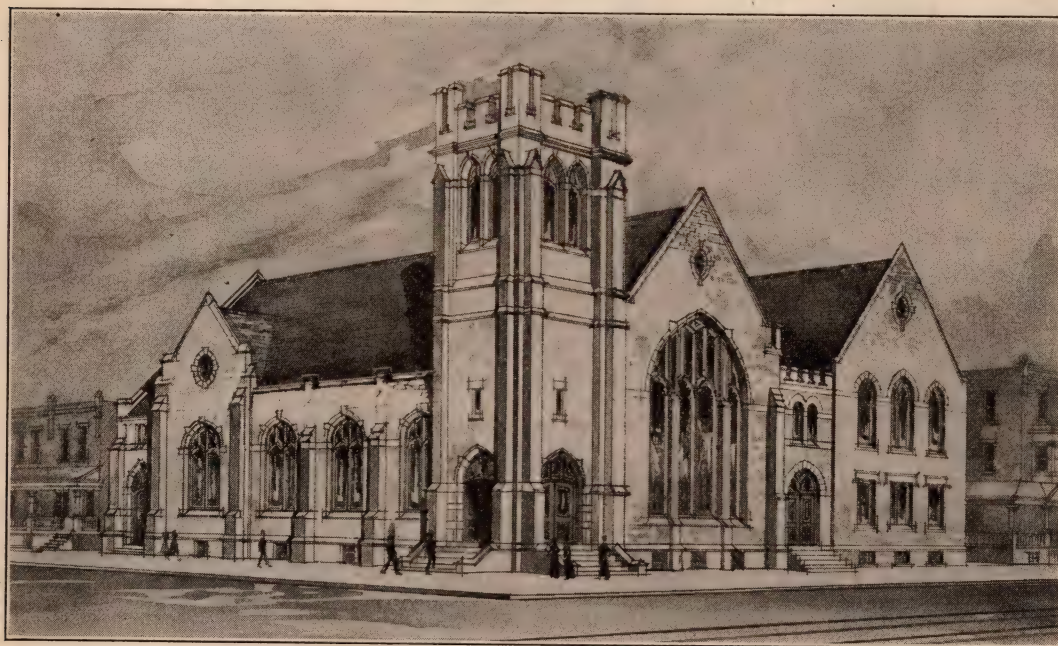

Social Service

The following persons constitute the Committee on Social Service: Rev. William C. Schaeffer, D.D.; Rev. Charles E. Schaeffer, D.D.; Rev. H. L. G. Kieffer;

Prof. A. V. Hiester, Ph.D.; and Rev. J. L. Fluck, D.D. This Committee is endeavoring to define the social task of the Reformed Church as it relates itself to the community, the industrial order, the political life, as well as the other phases of applied Christianity. The Committee has issued a social creed clearly outlining its policy. The various district Synods have special Committees on Social Service which cooperate with the general Committee of the Board. The work of Social Service constitutes the larger task of the Church as expressed in the final command of the Master, "Causing them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you."

Work Among Marines and Sailors

The Board of Home Missions is supporting several workers at League Island, Philadelphia, among the marines and sailors who are in training there. The war conditions are making new demands upon the forces of organized Christianity and are making it necessary for these agencies to reconstruct their program of work. To minister in spiritual things to the ten thousand men stationed on the Island is a work of far reaching significance.

Progressive Project

This is a movement carried forward by the Board of Home Missions and the Synod of the Interior to make it possible to liquidate the debts on the Missions and to quicken the life of the congregations within the Synod. The Synod itself will raise $40,000, and the Board of Home Missions is to provide an additional $70,000 within a period of five years. The Synod has already pledged its full amount, and the Board challenges the Church at large to cooperate in raising its allotted part. One hundred congregations are being challenged each to contribute a Gift Church-building Fund of $500 for this purpose, so that the Board's portion may be provided for. The Board has decided that the Home Mission Day offerings for a series of years shall also be applied to this purpose.

Philadelphia Program

This is a movement confined to the Philadelphia Classis, whereby the Board of Home Missions and the Classis are to make it possible to provide every Mission within its bounds with an adequate equipment and go to self-support within a definite period. An aggregate amount of $125,000 is to be raised, of which sum the Board is to contribute $50,000 during a period of five years. This will greatly stimulate the work of these Missions and will enable the Board to launch out upon a number of new and promising fields.

These two Programs, the one in Philadelphia, the other in the Synod of the Interior, may lead the way for the adoption of similar plans in other sections of the Church where Missions stand in immediate need of such assistance.

Jewish Work

The Board of Home Missions has been carrying forward work in behalf of the Jews in Brooklyn, New York, for the past year. Rev. W. Walenta is serving as Superintendent of the same, and Rev. William Diekmann as Missionary and Field Worker. Stated meetings are being held during the week, and although no definite organization has as yet been effected, a large number of Jewish people and children have been reached by the gospel message. Receipts from the Church at large for this work have been very encouraging, enabling the Board to reduce its appropriation to the work for this current year by one thousand dollars.

Church-building Department

The Church-building Fund Department in charge of Supt. J. S. Wise, reports that during the fiscal year, the Board received 44 Church-building Funds; which now brings the total number of Funds up to aggregating the sum of $376,980, of which $302,075 is in the form of Loan Funds and $74,905 in the form of Gift Funds.

Hungarian Work

The Reformed Church started Home Mission work among the Hungarians in 1890. There are at present sixteen Hungarian Missions on the Roll, with a membership of 2,400, besides twice as many adherents. The Board of Home Missions recently organized a Mission at Northampton, Penna. Daily Vacation Bible Schools are conducted during the Summer months in most of these Hungarian churches. They are largely attended by Hungarian children who are being instructed in the fundamental truths of our religion.

Through the cooperation of the Woman's Missionary Society, the Board is supporting four Deaconesses among the Hungarians. These women care for the children of Hungarian families, assist in conducting Vacation Bible Schools, and minister to their countrymen in religious as well as temporal affairs.

The "Reformatusok Lapja" is the name of the weekly publication, edited by Rev. Alexander Harsanyi, Ph.D., of Homestead, Penna., which circulates among Hungarians in both the Presbyterian and Reformed Churches. The "Bibliai Tanito" is a monthly publication intended for religious instruction.

There are many opportunities for enlarging the work among the Hungarians at the present time. Many of them have within the last few years taken out naturalization papers and are determined to remain in America. In many instances our English and German Churches can interest themselves in behalf of these people and afford them religious privileges in our established places of worship. The children of these Hungarians will become thoroughly Americanized within a generation and they will in due time attend our Sunday Schools and Catechetical Classes and take their place among our church workers.

The Board of Home Missions has 251 Missions on its roll. They are divided as follows:

English.....	142	Japanese....	1
German.....	88	Harbor.....	1
Hungarian.....	16	Jewish.....	1
Bohemian.....	2

The total membership in the mission congregations is 27055. The Missions contributed for benevolence last year $54,986.

FOREIGN MISSIONS

GROUP OF MISSIONARIES—ALLENTOWN CONFERENCE

Foreign Mission Day has been fixed by the General Synod. This year it will occur on February 10th. Its observance by all the congregations and Sunday Schools will prove a blessing to our people and a benefit to the work.

During 1918 the Board of Foreign Missions hopes to bring the evangelistic work of our Japan Mission vividly to the attention of parents and children. With a number of our evangelistic missionaries home on furlough the claims of this important arm of the work will receive due emphasis.

The Chinese appreciate the worth of our missionaries. They are telling us, "send us more workers—the more the better." This is the call that is ringing out of the darkness of heathenism.

ALLENTOWN CONFERENCE

To talk with our foreign missionaries is to be driven to one's knees in prayer for a great revival in giving at home. First, we need to give ourselves, and then, of our means to support the work. We send our men and women to the fields, but they need money to provide chapels and homes, and to pay the native workers.

Dr. James L. Barton, Secretary of the American Board, writes of "The Apostle of Ryo-U": "I am glad that this little book is out, and I hope and expect it will exert a wholesome influence upon missionary societies and upon missionaries in leading them to see that after all the supreme aim of all our work is to introduce men and women to Jesus Christ. Education is necessary. The medical is a strong arm of missions. Christian literature must be printed and circulated, and yet the final word of all is Christ, the redeemer of men."

No country in the world has greater need of physicians and nurses than China. There is no country more ignorant of the laws of health. It is true native doctors are in abundance, but anybody can be a doctor in China. No arm of Christian Missions exerts a more saving influence on the Chinese, in body and soul, than the practical benevolence of the medical missionary.

On a separate page in the Almanac will be found the names and addresses of our missionaries, and the latest facts and figures relating to their work.

For all the literature issued by the Board of Foreign Missions, including the Thirteenth Triennial Report, orders should be sent to the Secretary.

The three years' National Evangelistic Campaign in Japan has produced a deep and lasting impression upon the people who came within the sweep of its influence. The Christian Church in the empire has been brought to a sense of its unity and power. It has given the pastors a strong faith to undertake similar movements in the future. How to take care of inquirers is one of the questions that is stirring the minds and hearts of the leaders. More missionaries and chapels are the need of the hour to conserve this work, and nourish the young converts in working out their salvation.

One of the popular forms of Christian work in Japan is the kindergarten. There are about 180 schools with the number of pupils reaching nearly 8000. Everywhere these schools are doing excellent work. They not only influence the lives of the little children, but they become centers from which the gospel radiates into many homes. Our Japan Mission has three such schools. We should have at least two kindergartens in our China Mission.

All those boxes, ready for the drayman, are filled with groceries, provisions, etc., gathered at the suggestion and packed under the direction of a young man who used his influence among the members of his church and Sunday School to induce them to make a donation to Bethany Orphans' Home. He and they succeeded very well and their help gave us much encouragement.

Now look at the picture again. It is prettier than it seemed at first glance. For, where you then saw only boxes you now see also cheerful sacrifice, loving service and a good example for you to follow during 1918.

OLD BUILDING

THE FORT WAYNE ORPHANS' HOME

One hundred and fourteen children have been taken care of during the past year. The largest number present at any one time was 95.

Considering the high cost of all the commodities of life, it is almost miraculous how the Father in heaven provided for us. Surely, He blessed the loaves and fishes, so that this company of His children never suffered actual hunger.

Enlargement and training to efficiency are being stressed at this time. For many years we have been urged by our limitations and especially by the State Board of Charities and Corrections to erect another building to be used principally for a mess hall. This new building is an accomplished fact. The new building was constructed at an expense of twenty five thousand dollars, contributed by congregations and Sunday Schools for the most part, only a few larger individual gifts having been given.

THREE CHURCH FATHERS

The fathers of the Church are the heritage of the Church. The names of Harbaugh, Gerhart and Bomberger are links in the chain of our church workers that bind us to a noble past.

The year 1917 marked the one-hundredth anniversary of the birth of these three men. This event was noted in a number of places by memorial addresses.

Each of these leaders was well qualified by nature and grace to render a special service to the cause of Christian Truth.

As preachers of the Gospel, they were not ashamed to confess, with Paul, that it is the power of God unto Salvation to everyone that believeth. It fell to the lot of each one of them to help in preparing young men for the Christian Ministry.

Dr. Harbaugh was a prolific writer. His heart went out to the young people. He felt the need of literature for them, and this lead him in 1850 to publish The Guardian, a monthly magazine, that supplied a real want in our Church. His Golden Censer is still without a rival as a book of devotion for the young. He was a typical Pennsylvania German, and by his voice and pen he did much to interpret the social and religious life of the Pennsylvanians of German ancestry.

To Dr. Gerhart belongs the distinctive honor of having been longest in service as a teacher in our institutions of learning. He was a professor in College and Seminary at Tiffin, Mercersburg and Lancaster. He had few rivals as a disciplinarian. His influence will abide in the lives and labors of thousands of men who came under the potent spell of his voice in the classroom and from the pulpit. Dr. Gerhart was the author of a number of books; among them the "Institutes of the Christian Religion" deserves special mention.

Dr. Bomberger as a pastor and preacher was a tower of strength in the Church. He became the founder of Ursinus College, an institution that has sent forth hundreds of young men and women into every walk of life. As time passes his influence, especially in the field of educational and religious activities, will become more apparent, and the character of his work more enduring.

He was licensed by Tiffin Classis May 4, 1894, and entered upon the duties of the ministry in the Mohican Charge. Later he became pastor of the New Berlin (Ohio) Charge, where he zealously labored until 1913, when on account of throat trouble and the serious illness of his wife, he was obliged to give up the active pastorate. He later served charges in Petersburg, Ohio, and Sharpsville, Pa. At the later place he labored until obliged to relinquish the work on account of ill health in October, 1916. He died at the City Hospital, Youngstown, Ohio, January 29, 1917.

He taught parochial school in Louisville, and served several preaching places on the north bank of the Ohio River in Indiana; was pastor of the Reformed Church in Terre Haute, Ind., 1854-1871; Evansville, 1871-1873; then for forty years pastor of Emanuel Church, Herman, Wis., retiring from the ministry in 1913. He was a successful preacher and a prolific writer for the Church papers; also the author of several books. At different times he was a member of the Church boards of Publication, Indian Missions, Mission House, Education; also president of Sheboygan Classis and of the German Synod of the Northwest. The Mission House conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Divinity.

REV. DAVID P. LEFEVER died on April 26, 1917, aged 79 years, 3 months and 21 days. He was born near Gettysburg and spent his early days on the farm. During the Civil War he joined the 149th Pennsylvania Infantry. At the battle of Spottsylvania Court House he was wounded, losing his right arm near the shoulder. After the war he decided to study for the ministry. He graduated from Dickinson College, and from the Theological Seminary, Lancaster, in 1874. For twenty years thereafter he served as a missionary in the Reformed Church, spending twelve years in Iowa, and later in various places in Maryland and North Carolina. He retired in 1885, locating in Reading, Pa.

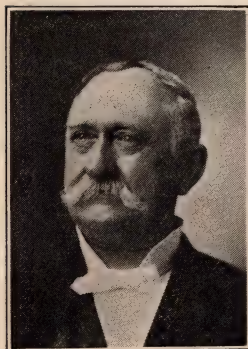

REV. BLACK

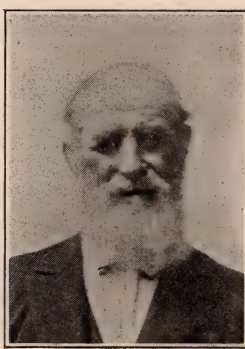

REV. ALBERT A. BLACK was born January 10, 1850 and died on May 10, 1917. He prepared for college at the Shade Gap Academy and the Millersville State Normal School. He graduated from Mercersburg College in 1878 and from the Theological Seminary, Lancaster, in 1881. His first ministerial work was a three months' supply-pastorate in the Greenville, Ohio, charge. His first regular pastorate was at Delmont, Pa. He later served the church at Saegerstown, Boalsburg, Derry, and the Paradise Charge, Turbotville, Pa. His active ministry extended over a period of thirty-six years. He is survived by his widow.

REV. OSVILLE B. WEHR died on August 3, 1917, aged forty-nine years, one month and eighteen days. He was a native of Washington township, Penna. He studied in the local schools during his early years and was graduated from Keystone State Normal School in 1889. He then taught school for a short time. Later he entered Ursinus College and was graduated from that institution in 1895 and from the Seminary in 1898. His first pastorate was in the Willow Street Charge, Lancaster County, Pa., which he served for three years, when he was compelled to leave the active ministry on account of ill health. He is survived by his widow and one son.

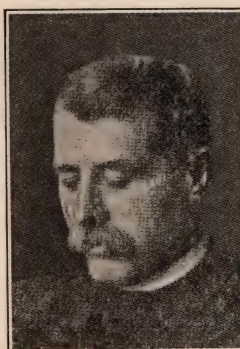

REV. HIRAM SHUMAKER was born April 22, 1842 near Tiffin, Ohio, and died at Holton, Kansas, July 22, 1917. In his boyhood days he formed the purpose to prepare for the ministry. He served in the Civil War from 1861 to the end of the war, and then continued his preparation for his life work. He graduated from Heidelberg College in 1869, and entered the work of the ministry at Springboro, Ohio. He continued work here for nearly six years, but on account of failing health, he removed with his family to Texas, where they remained for two and one-half years. His health being partially restored, he was called to a mission field at Salina, Kansas in 1881, where he labored for six years. In view of continued ill health, he did not take up the active work again but frequently preached and served in other ministerial capacities until a short time before his death. "THE JAPAN PLAN"

The Board of Foreign Missions has approved the following outline of an Educational Program on Japan for the early part of 1918. Every worker in every local Church should become acquainted with it and lay plans now to fit it into next year's program.

Three specific organizations in each Church are to be reached intensively:

1. Young People's Organization. The Christian Endeavor Society, Heidelberg League, Jugend Verein, or Guild. For these the new Mission Study book, "Tohoku, the Scotland of Japan" is being prepared by Dr. Christopher Noss and his associates of the Japan Mission.

2. The Sunday School. Attractive wall charts and lesson stories will be prepared to make it possible for the whole Sunday School to take "A Tour of North Japan."

3. Children's Organization. Junior Christian Endeavor Society, Mission Band, etc. A book of stories on our work in North Japan is being written by Mrs. J. H. String of Cleveland, Ohio, known to the readers of "Leaves of Light", as Aunt Peggy.

Let every Church and Sunday School officer take note. Particularly let the Congregational Missionary and Stewardship Committee do so!

For full information and for materials write to the Mission Study Dept., Reformed Church Building, Fifteenth and Race Streets, Philadelphia, Pa.

SETTLE THAT MUSIC PROBLEM RIGHT

The Music Department of our Board is a department of helpfulness—it was organized for this purpose—and hundreds of our churches will testify to the fact that it has been of real assistance in many ways.

WE PUBLISH excellent material for use in all departments of Church activities and our publications are held in high esteem by Ministers and other workers in all denominations. We feel our own publications will more than please you.

BUT, in addition, we fill orders for everything published by others, and always at publishers' rate.

THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

OF THE REFORMED CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES

Founded at Carlisle, March, 1825

LANCASTER, PENNA.

This School of Theology, the oldest educational institution of the Reformed Church is conducted under the direction of three English Synods: The Eastern Synod, the Pittsburg Synod and the Synod of the Potomac.

Its financial affairs are managed by a Board of Trustees, consisting of eighteen elders. Instruction and discipline are subject to the authority of a Board of Visitors, consisting of twelve ministers. The Visitors and Trustees are chosen from the ministers and elders of the three Synods.

The Course of Instruction embraces three years and includes all the branches of a complete education for the Christian ministry.

A fine Dormitory and Refectory were recently added to the equipment, in which room and board may be had at reasonable rates.

The Seminary year begins on the second Thursday of September.

BARLOW'S Indigo Blue

The Tried and True Wash Blue of America

IT is over fifty years since this article was discovered and introduced to the public for blueing clothes. Many attempts have been made to imitate it, but none have succeeded to equal it in quality. It is the purest and strongest, will not spot or streak the clothes, nor injure the finest fabric. Few articles have the endorsement of the public for half a century unless the quality merits it. This endorsement Barlow's Indigo Blue has well earned, making it the standard Blueing throughout the country.

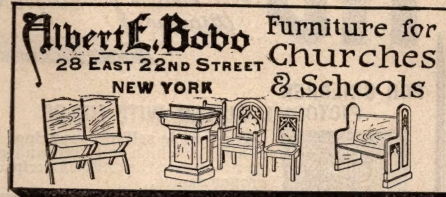

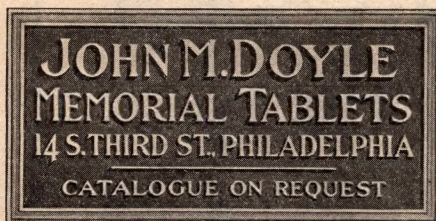

Trade Mark is registered and we caution the trade against handling goods imitating style and appearance
